Robert L. Masson, M.D., a Windermere resident and founder of the NeuroSpine Institute and NeuroSpin

R obert L. Masson, M.D., founder of the NeuroSpine Institut

“My goal is the creation of a spine subspecialty focused on sports spine injuries,” said Dr. Masson, who

“Typically, patients come to us as a last resort,” he said. “If someone perceives a recurrent spine probler

Of course, there are cases where surgery is the only option, and Dr. Masson and his staff of highly acco

In spite of a rigorous work schedule, he manages to dedicate considerable time to a number of nonprofit

Beyond his work with NSIF, Dr. Masson serves as the Florida strategic partner for the National Ability Ce

“When I go to NAC in Park City and see people living life to their fullest, even though they may be decim

He also is an advocate of sports-injury prevention, believing that proper training, nutrition and living a he

Dr. Masson approaches his practice with the same philosophy of a committed athlete.

”Every time you play a sport, you always want to be better,” he said. “I get up each morning and want to Dr. Masson has made great strides in the field of microneurosurgery, including the invention of interpedi minimal access surgery of the lumbar spine (iMAS).

Hundreds of surgeons from around the world travel to Southwest Orlando to train under Dr. Masson, wh

“There really is no better way of learning than teaching,” he said. “I am blessed that I have a situation wh

With his credentials, experience and world-renowned reputation, Dr. Masson could practice virtually any

“We have a great community here with a lot of good people,” he said. “I really love this part of the world.

NeuroSpine Institute is located in Suite 100 at 2706 Row Circle in Southwest Orlando. For more informa

www.neurospineinstitute.org